Chapter 346: The Divine Reckoning

The sky cracked open with a thunderous roar, as if the heavens themselves had been split asunder. Sung Jin-Woo, surrounded by the radiance of his four divine jewels, stood resolute, his eyes blazing with divine fury. Across from him, The Annihilator surged with void energy, its form a grotesque mass of swirling darkness that threatened to swallow all creation.

A Clash of Divinities

The Divine Judgment cascaded toward The Annihilator, a flood of radiant energy that could bend the very laws of the universe. Yet, even as the divine storm engulfed the void creature, it fought back with equal ferocity. The Essence of Destruction, the very embodiment of entropy and chaos, roared into the heavens, unleashing waves of black lightning that clashed with Sung Jin-Woo's divine light.

For a moment, time itself seemed to bend and break. The cosmic battlefield trembled, as though the very foundation of existence could no longer withstand the overwhelming force. The Divine Triad and their allies watched from their realms, their eyes fixed on the clash, their powers reaching out in silent support. The fate of all worlds rested on this moment.

Sung Jin-Woo's hand trembled ever so slightly, but his resolve did not falter. With a single, powerful motion, he summoned the Divine Blade once more. This time, however, it was different. The blade was infused with the full power of the Essence of Eternity, becoming an instrument of absolute creation, capable of bending the very fabric of reality to his will.

The Battle Intensifies

With a roar, The Annihilator surged forward, its void claws crashing toward Sung Jin-Woo in an attempt to tear him apart. But Sung Jin-Woo was faster. With a burst of divine speed, he dodged the attack, his wings flaring as he soared high into the air. His Divine Blade cleaved through the void itself, sending waves of divine light into the heart of the darkness.

The Annihilator, momentarily stunned, retaliated with a burst of destructive energy so intense that the very ground beneath them shattered into oblivion. A vast chasm opened in the fabric of reality, threatening to pull all creation into the void.

But Sung Jin-Woo's power was absolute. He raised his hand, and with a single thought, he reformed the very fabric of space-time around him, closing the chasm and restoring the balance. The Essence of Eternity hummed with energy, its divine resonance amplifying Sung Jin-Woo's every action.

Sung Jin-Woo: "You seek to destroy... but I will create a future. Your void will be consumed by light."

The Final Confrontation

The Annihilator, now fully enraged, expanded its form, its void energy becoming an all-encompassing storm of destruction. It reached out with tendrils of darkness, each one capable of unraveling worlds. But Sung Jin-Woo was unyielding. He summoned his divine power, his four jewels glowing with unparalleled brilliance, each one resonating with the pulse of creation itself.

With a final, powerful swing of the Divine Blade, Sung Jin-Woo struck. The blade cleaved through the void, its divine energy crashing into the heart of The Annihilator. The creature let out an earth-shattering scream as its form shattered, its dark essence dissipating into nothingness.

For a moment, there was silence. The void was gone, and the air was still.

The Aftermath

Sung Jin-Woo stood alone amidst the remnants of the battle. His wings spread wide, his divine jewels glowing with an otherworldly light. The Annihilator had been vanquished, but the cost of the battle was immeasurable. The multiverse itself had been shaken to its core.

But Sung Jin-Woo was not done. The Essence of Eternity still pulsed within him, and with it, the power to heal, restore, and create. He raised his hand, and the shattered realms began to heal, the cracks in the fabric of reality slowly mending as his divine power spread across the cosmos.

The Divine Triad and their followers watched as their leader began the process of restoration. The worlds, torn by war and chaos, would once again be united under the banner of creation. Sung Jin-Woo had proven that no force of destruction could stand against the power of creation.

A New Dawn

The multiverse, once teetering on the edge of destruction, began to stabilize. The realms that had been shattered by the battle with The Annihilator slowly regained their balance. The Divine Triad's forces worked tirelessly to restore order, their divine power shaping the future of the multiverse.

Sung Jin-Woo, his wings unfurled and his four jewels glowing with eternal brilliance, looked out over the vast expanse of creation. His heart burned with an unyielding desire to protect all that he had fought for. With the power of the Essence of Eternity and the strength of his divine army, he would continue to guide the multiverse toward a future of peace and prosperity.

But even as the multiverse began to heal, Sung Jin-Woo knew that his work was far from over. There would always be threats to face, challenges to overcome, and new worlds to protect. And with the power of creation at his side, he was ready for whatever came next.
